

TOOL #16: SAMPLE DUE DILIGENCE LIST

Due diligence is the examination that each party to a business transaction undertakes of the assets and liabilities of the other party in order to evaluate the potential value, or risk, of the consolidation. Each nonprofit conducts due diligence of its potential partner(s) based on its own needs and decides with the input of their legal counsel what documents are critical to review. The goal is transparency: whatever documents are requested must be provided by the other party. Questions are forwarded to the other organization throughout the process and should be responded to immediately. Typically, attorneys and financial experts such as CPAs or MBAs are enlisted to conduct the due diligence process, either on a pro bono or fee-for-service basis.

At the conclusion of due diligence, each organization will sum up the results for its own Board of Directors and determine if there is cause, or not, to halt the merger process.

Below is a list of due diligence items that nonprofits typically request of each other, which can be adapted for any merger. To track the document process, check off each item that each party has requested. Add to the list, if needed. Feel free to skip items if they have been reviewed previously or are not necessary to review.
